

Supporting Documents Checklist — I-539

Documents recommended to attach to your form, based on what you answered in the questionnaire.

Extracted directly from the team's own document checklist (one file per service: EOS, COS B2, COS F1, COS F2) — not a generic externally researched list. Always check the form's official instructions and the team's feedback for your specific case before filing.

Documents required from every applicant

- ☐ Your passport and visa (biographic pages and visas)
- ☐ Passport and visa of any dependents included in this application (if any)
- ☐ Birth certificate of dependents (children) or marriage certificate (if applicable)
- ☐ Your personal email, U.S. phone number, and home-country phone number
- ☐ Your complete U.S. address (including apt/unit/suite and ZIP code)
- ☐ Receipts from prior extensions or changes of status, if any (approval notice, or filing receipt if still pending)
- ☐ Bank statements from the last 3 months (Proof of financial support for the temporary stay period. Each statement must show: full account holder name, account and routing/branch information, current available balance, and recent transactions. Investment account statements are also accepted, as long as they clearly show the balance is available for withdrawal at any time (some schools do not accept this type for student cases — confirm with the team). If the statement is not in your name, a Sponsorship Letter is required (collected via the "I-539 — Cartas Complementares" form on this site), along with a photo ID of the sponsor.)
- ☐ Recent proof of address in your home country (Accepted documents: utility bills (water/electricity), cell phone bill, internet bill, condo/HOA fee, credit card statement, landline phone bill. Must show full name and complete address, and be recent (current or prior month). If not in your name, an Address Letter is required (collected via the "I-539 — Cartas Complementares" form on this site).)
- ☐ High school diploma and transcript (or higher education diploma, if any) (Accepted documents: High School Diploma or equivalent (with transcript), Associate's/Technical Diploma, or Bachelor's/higher degree. Must show full name, institution name, diploma/certification awarded, and completion date.)
- ☐ Proof of professional/business ties in your home country: business registration (CNPJ), articles of incorporation, sole-proprietorship registration, OR an employer letter (if you have no business of your own), OR a business-caretaker letter (if you do have your own business) (The employer letter and the business-caretaker letter are prepared through the "I-539 — Cartas Complementares" form on this site, using the information you provide.)
- ☐ Information for your personal narrative letter (motivation, history in the U.S., plans, etc.) (Collected through a dedicated questionnaire — the "I-539 — Cartas Complementares" form on this site — separate from the main I-539 questionnaire.)
- ☐ Background/security questions answered carefully (Already part of Part 4 of the main I-539 questionnaire on this site — review your answers carefully before generating the PDF, since any "Yes" answer typically requires additional documentation and explanation.)
- ☐ Budget and arrangement for certified translation of any supporting documents not in English (Any document submitted to USCIS that is not in English must include a full certified translation (original document + translated version + the translator's certificate of translation).)

- ☐ Read and sign the service agreement with the team

Documents specific to your case

- ☐ All of your prior I-20s (if you previously held F-1 status, since your arrival in the U.S.)
- ☐ All prior I-20s of the principal F-1 student (the person you will become a dependent of)
- ☐ Proof of SEVIS fee payment — yours (if any) and the principal F-1 student's
- ☐ Updated I-20 of the principal F-1 student, listing your name as the F-2 dependent
- ☐ If the principal F-1 student has previously requested an extension or change of status: proof of that request (approval notice, or receipt if still pending)

This list is a support guide based on your answers and the form's general instructions — it does not replace the official instructions or legal advice. Documents in a language other than English need a complete certified translation (the translator certifying they are competent to translate and that the translation is complete and accurate).
